

MOTHER! IS CHILD'S STOMACH SOUR, SICK?

If Tongue Is Coated or if Cross, Feverish, Constipated Give "California Syrup of Figs."

Don't scold your fretful, peevish child. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with sour waste.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul waste, the sour bile and fermenting food passes out of the bowels and you have a well and playful child again. Children love this harmless "fruit laxative," and mothers can rest easy after giving it, because it never fails to make their little "insides" clean and sweet.

Keep it handy, mother! A little given to-day save a sick child to-morrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Remember there are counterfeits sold here, so surely look and see that yours is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup. —Adv.

WAITS RIVER

West Topsham Won Third of Series of Ball Games.

On Saturday afternoon, Waits River and West Topsham met on the third of the Topsham diamond for the third clash in baseball. Waits River was victorious in the first two games and up to the ninth inning it looked as though they would take the third, but on account of a series of errors, the game was lost to West Topsham, by the score of 25-23.

During the first inning, Waits River led off with ten runs, while West Topsham made but three. Waits River added another in the second, while West Topsham remained as in the first. The third inning was scoreless for both sides. During the fourth, Waits River added ten runs more, which were increased to the total of 23 runs in the seventh. In the ninth, Waits River remained as before. During the last part of the ninth, when a grounder was batted to a point between home plate and first base, Pitcher Currier picked it and threw first, where Welch dropped it, allowing the player to reach base. Then came a succession of errors, which put West Topsham on the top shelf in score. The game suddenly came to a close when Fred Bagley was stealing, and he was declared out by the umpire. Two good plays were made by Welch and Dodge on men stealing second.

The West Topsham team were delighted to think they had the luck to win from Waits River. Allen Locke, who has pitched for the locals, was necessarily absent and Fred Currier, who has not been practicing for the position was put in and did well up to the sixth inning. West Topsham as usual picked three outside men to play on their team. The local players were as follows: Fred Currier, p and 3b; George Dodge, c; Leslie Welch, 1b; Capt. George Dodge, 2b; Mr. Erwin Batten, 3b and ss; Glenwood Delph, ss and p; Eugene Eastman, 1b; Kenneth Batten, cf; Will Phelps, rf; Umpires, George Welch and Chester Hight.

AMUSEMENT NOTES.

"Seven Keys to Baldpate" at Barre Opera House Friday Evening.

George M. Cohan has gone up one step more and reached the round of permanent fame in the ladder of success. "Seven Keys to Baldpate" is his greatest play. It teems with thrills and fun. "Mystery fare" is a new and original classification for melodrama, but the "mystery" element is strong and keeps one guessing. The plot is perplexing at first—its complete solution does not come until the curtain is rung down on the last act. There are political intrigue and scandal, round-ups and pistol shots and thrills a plenty that start a guessing game in the audience. The owner of the inn and party of the second part to the best, arrives with the seventh key to Baldpate, and unlocks part of the mystery at the expenses of the audience. He discloses that all the fearful happenings were planned to spoil the author's job.

The last scene, however, gives the clue to the whole plot of this ingenious performance. Whether the public likes to be fooled as this play fools them remains to be seen, but the fact remains that "Seven Keys to Baldpate" staged an entire season in New York, and that three companies are at present playing it throughout the country. It comes to the opera house on Friday evening, Sept. 18. —Adv.

ORANGE

Reception Given in Town Hall to Mr. and Mrs. John Tucker.

A reception was given to Mr. and Mrs. John Tucker last Friday night at the town hall by a large number of their friends. Fred Bisson presented Mr. and Mrs. Tucker a handsome stand in behalf of the company, to which they fittingly responded. There were also numerous other gifts from various friends.
